I'm running for Lord Mayor because I believe Perth has the potential to be one of the world's truly great cities. As a long-time resident and business owner, I've experienced both the highs and lows of our city. Right now, we're not moving forward - and I want to change that.

I've built businesses from the ground up, growing simple startups into companies that contribute back. That journey has taught me how to lead strong teams, solve real-world problems and deliver results that matter. I'll bring that same drive, discipline and determination to Council.

Perth deserves a fresh, focused approach - one that puts local priorities before politics. As the only genuine independent, my vision is for a cleaner, safer, more vibrant city where businesses can thrive, creativity flourishes and residents feel proud to call Perth home.

I will lead a Council committed to action, not endless talk.

Together, let's unlock Perth's full potential and build a city - stronger, safer, and full of opportunity.
